

Students enrolled in Digital Photography at Eaglecrest High School will spend the year exploring the world of digital photography. Students will explore photographic composition and develop a conceptual voice. We will spend the rest of the year learning how to use DSLR cameras, edit and process our images via Photoshop. We will research historical and Contemporary photographers. There will be written assignments and homework throughout the year. Students are expected to be active members of class discussions, critiques and demonstrate professionalism in time management and leadership. There will be a number of art shows this year in and out of the building, and your work will be submitted to these shows and the school website for display. By the end of the semester, Digital Photo will leave you prepared for more advanced classes and/ or artistic endeavors in photography.
